Patagonia included in Fodor's "The Go List: 52 Places That Remind You What a Wonderful World This Is"

Chilean Patagonia was featured on Fodor's "The Go List: 52 Places That Remind You What a Wonderful World This Is", published on November 15, 2017. The list highlights can't-miss spots that should be on every traveler's radar. Regarding Chile, the article highlights the untouched beauty of the Patagonian land located at the end of the world. It shows that tourists can drink from a glacier, view the famed turquoise lakes, see avalanches, spot pumas, guanaco (similar to llamas), condors, foxes, and even flamingos!
