

The New York Times has highlighted the Elqui Valley as one of the best places to travel

Once again, the New York Times has set its eyes in one of our destinations, highlighting it among the 52 places you have to visit this 2015. The list that the travel section of the American portal prepares annually has placed the Elqui Valley fifth in their ranking, one that is highly expected among its readers and one with the widest distribution in the world of tourism. Photo: Elqui Domos/James Florio

Enjoy some of the attractions around the Dakar route

It has become a tradition during January. The most extreme rally in the world and Chile is once again the main character. The cities of Copiapó, Antofagasta, Iquique and Calama are preparing themselves for this racing sport event.

Check out Santiago from above in the Metropolitan Park

In Santiago, the Metropolitan Park has the best views of the capital: a visual summary of the city's true dimensions and shapes with the majestic Andes Mountain Range in the background..

Tips for trekking the W Circuit at Torres del Paine

The famous W Circuit is considered one of the most beautiful in the world. We leave you with a few tips below if you wish to do this route during your vacations.

Arica dresses in color and dances

Con la Fuerza del Sol, or With the Strength of the Sun in English, is one of the largest carnivals of South America and year after year gathers over 100 thousand spectators with its troupes and traditional dances from Bolivia, Peru and Chile.

MORE NEWS

Birds of Maule Region

The northern coast of the Maule Region corresponds to an extensive coastal fringe situated on the northern shore of the Maule River estuary characterized by its large dunes and wetlands.

Arica, the northern doorway of Chile

Capital of the Arica and Parinacota Region and entryway to the extreme north of Chile, at 1 and 8 hours by car from Peru and Bolivia, respectively. Due to its privileged climate all year round, it is known as the "City of Eternal Spring"